

Sector: Commercial kitchen
Area: 400sqm + cove detail
System: Altro Crete 6mm Slip resistant Polyurethane
Colour: Butterscotch

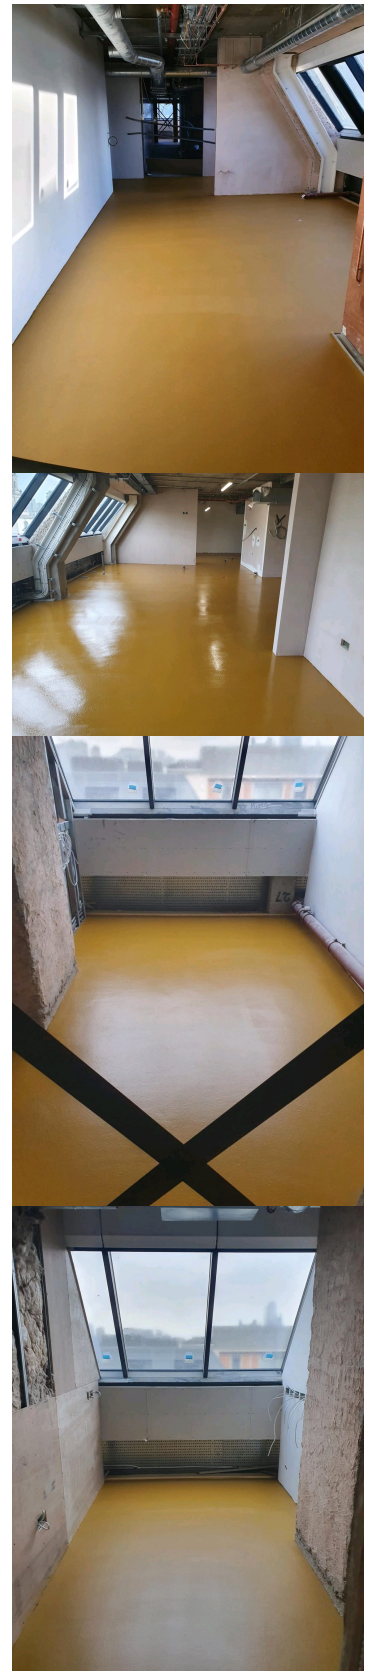

This high end commercial kitchen in London has recently received a huge makeover. The existing floor was showing signs of wear and tear and needed to be replaced with a new flooring which offered slip resistance, impact resistance and durability.

We were subcontracted to install Altro's durable 6mm Polyurethane system with cove detail. Quickset resin flooring, removed the existing floor finish, carried out substrate repairs and mechanically prepared the floor ready to receive the new floor finish.

The PU resin system was installed within the time frame provided and has provided a long term, durable solution for a demanding environment.

We have solutions designed to deliver outstanding hygiene, performance and durability in the most demanding environments. Please get in touch for installations into commercial kitchens, canteens or food preparation areas.

Other Colours available in this system:

This system is designed:

For very heavy duty areas where there is an increased risk of slipping. Typical applications include commercial kitchens, appliance bays, food and drink preparation, production and storage. Chemical and pharmaceutical production and storage.